Enter some of your homemade creations in the Home & Garden Competition. Monmouth County Park System's Harvest Home Festival will be held on Sunday, September 30 from 11:00am to 5:00pm at Historic Longstreet Farm in Holmdel. Admission and parking are FREE.

HOLMDEL — Enjoy time outdoors while experiencing 1890s rural farm life as the Monmouth County Park System celebrates their annual Harvest Home Festival. This old-fashioned country fair allows visitors to experience a time when neighbors gathered not only to accomplish work, but also to spend time enjoying each other's company. Harvest Home Festival will be held on Sunday, September 30 from 11:00am to 5:00pm at Historic Longstreet Farm on Longstreet Road in Holmdel.

Schedule Packed with Old-Fashioned Activities

Harvest Home Festival features many types of historic activities and demonstrations showcasing local farm life during the late 19th century.

- Wagon Rides
- Old-fashioned Games & Crafts
- Pie-eating Contests
- “Medicine Man” Show
- Blacksmith Demonstrations
- Live Entertainment
- And so much more!

Home & Garden Competition

If you’ve grown a beautiful, large tomato or bake a fabulous pie, join in the spirit of the festival by entering one of the competitions! Details of the Home & Garden-style contest are available on the Harvest Home Festival page under the “Activities” section of our website at www.monmouthcountyparks.com for entries in the following categories:

- Fresh Vegetables (largest tomato, pumpkin, or winter squash)
- Canning (fruits, vegetables)
- Condiments (butter, jams, jellies, pickles/relishes)
- Baked Goods (biscuits/donuts, bread/rolls, cakes, cookies/brownies, muffins, pies)
- Needlework (cross stitch, embroidery, knitting/crochet, quilting, rug hooking/braiding)
